WOULD AID IN HEALTHY DEVELOPMENT OF CITY.

SURVEY IS PROPOSED

Donald A. Caldwell, Secretary of Chamber of Commerce, Would Point Out Maryville's Advantages.

Small cities of America of approximately the same size as Maryville are now in a golden age of opportunity for progress if they will only take advantages of their resources, Donald A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, said today.

Towns like Maryville should be awake to a program of healthy growth induced by manufacturing industries who are not averse to establishing branches in the small cities of the country, Mr. Caldwell believes.

"Maryville has grown in population but 3 per cent in the last twenty years, while the increase in the country at large has been 40 per cent," the secretary pointed out. "This extra 37 per cent has gone to the cities and towns offering remunerative employment and desirable places to live. They have to go somewhere and they cannot afford to come to cities and towns where they cannot find jobs."

Maryville educates its boys and girls through twelve years of their lives and pays it taxes in order that the coming generation might be better able to support themselves and families as well as contribute something worth while to the community in which they live, Mr. Caldwell pointed out. But when the boys and girls finish their school work in Maryville they must find something to do, some job which will produce their "bread and butter," the secretary said.

"These boys and girls, whom Maryville taxpayers have educated, are unable to find jobs here and they turn to the larger cities and towns for employment," he continued. "As a result, these other communities benefit by enlarged contributions from the smaller cities, and places like Maryville are the losers."

Factories Needed.

Mr. Caldwell believes that an extensive campaign for bringing factories to Maryville offers the best solution to the problem. These industries would offer employment to the local boys and girls, just graduating from high school here, and then they would be in position to contribute something to the life of the community which has educated them.

"Maryville, with its first-class schools and excellent retail market needs only factories to complete the combination necessary for a healthy-growing city," Mr. Caldwell said. "Already possessing two of the needed qualifications, Maryville would attract a better class of labor and more home builders.

"Today, innumerable families in the already congested cities of the country are only too willing to locate in the small towns providing they can secure employment there. The large population centers are made up, to a considerable extent, of persons who located there during the war on account of the glamor of high wages, and have since been unable to leave because they could not secure the necessary employment elsewhere."

Proposes Survey.

Mr. Caldwell proposes an industrial survey of Maryville to include an enumeration of the possibilities of this city, locations available for factories, data on water supply, transportation facilities, educational and religious advantages, and other information which would prove attractive to the large industries who are willing to locate branches here.

But a city cannot merely dream of factories and get them, Mr. Caldwell emphasized. It is necessary, he said, for an active campaign to be made in an effort to interest the large industries. Canning factories, creameries, shoe factories, packing plants are only a few of the possibilities available, and Mr. Caldwell believes that Maryville could profit to a very great extent by securing a number of factories here.

LIFE SAVING TESTS SHOWN

DEMONSTRATION IS GIVEN AT POOL LAST NIGHT.

GIVES TESTS TODAY

J. H. Smith, American Red Cross Representative, Is Assisted by College Swimming Classes.

J. H. Smith, assisted by the swimming classes of the College, gave a demonstration last night at the Sanitary Swimming Pool of the various strokes and methods used in rescuing a drowning person.

The process of resuscitation and of breaking strangle holds were also demonstrated by Mr. Smith, who is a representative of the American Red Cross and is interested in establishing a Life Saving Corps in Maryville. A large crowd was at the pool last night.

The purpose of the demonstration was to teach the young swimmers how to attempt to rescue a swimmer without imperiling himself and also to interest Maryville swimmers in the Red Cross life saving work.

Mr. Smith remained in Maryville today and gave tests to applicants for Life Savings certificates.

In speaking of the Maryville pool, Mr. Smith said, "It is the most sanitary and best managed pool I have ever been in." He especially liked the system of re-filtering which is employed at the pool.

CHECKING UP FELONY CASES

REPRESENTATIVES ASSN. FOR CRIMINAL JUSTICE HERE.

IS NEW ORGANIZATION

Investigation Being Conducted Over Entire State Under Direction Arthur V. Lashly of St. Louis.

Arthur V. Lashly, former prosecuting attorney of St. Louis county and a member of the recent Conostitutional Convention, is here directing investigation in the office of the circuit clerk, Virgil Rathbun, of the records of various criminal cases for the two years, October 1922-24. He is being assisted in this work by M. N. McCrory, also of St. Louis.

The records of only felony cases are being taken. It is expected that the investigation here will take several days. Mr. Lashly is directing the work all over the state, and is a part of the program of the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice.

Investigation is a part of the program of the Association which is conducting a state-wide survey of the processes of the administration of justice in Missouri, having for its purpose the determination of any weaknesses in the criminal procedural laws of their administration.

The data that is being collected will when completed, show what happened in every such case from the time the accused was arrested until his case was finally disposed of. After these records are complete in one county in each judicial circuit and in the larger cities, the data will be tabulated and reduced to statistical tables. These tables will give a cross section of criminal justice in Missouri.

The Missouri Association for Criminal Justice was organized and incorporated last October 15th at a public meeting in the Hall of the House of Representatives at Jefferson City. This meeting was attended by representatives of nearly every important civic, business and labor organization in Missouri. The plan adopted at that time provides for a state-wide organ-

BRYAN SOUNDS BATTLE CRY

WOULD BAR SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE FROM TRIAL.

IS GREATEST CRISIS

Baptist Minister, Fundamentalist, Delivers Opening Prayer And Defense Counsel Remains Silent.

Courtroom, Dayton, Tenn., July 16. William Jennings Bryan, America's outstanding fundamentalist, this afternoon launched his "duel to the death" against evolution, the theoretical heart of science.

The leader of the prosecution lifted his voice primarily to convince Presiding Judge Ralston in the Scopes' evolution case that scientific evidence should be barred in the trial. In a larger sense, he was sounding what he termed earlier the battle call of Christianity to resist assault from organized non-believers.

Courtroom, Dayton, Tenn., July 16.—The Scopes trial reached its greatest crisis today when the state's attorneys offered a motion to exclude all scientific testimony touching on the relation of evolution to the divine origin of man.

Just before the session started this morning, a mail carrier brought in a sack of mail for Clarence Darrow. He emptied the sack on the counsel table and most of the defense attorneys helped him examine the records.

The Reverend James Allen, pastor of the Dayton Baptist Church, made the opening prayer. He was a fundamentalist, praying "God's blessing upon the deliberations of the court to the end that Thy word be vindicated and Thy truth revealed."

For the first time defense attorneys received the prayer in silence. An objection, however, was automatically entered in the records.

Foucke had appealed from the decision of Commissioner of International Revenue Blair but the tax board held for the commissioner.

STILL SILENT ON PROPOSAL

NO REPLIES TO CHINESE CONFERENCE INVITATION.

BUT NO OPPOSITION

Report Note Has Been Sent By Kellogg Regarding Extra Territorial Claims Is Not Confirmed.

Washington, July 16—Secretary of State Kellogg is still without formal replies to his queries with respect to the calling of a conference on Chinese affairs, it was learned today.

Information reaching the state department, it was said, indicated that the powers are approaching an agreement and that all will be ready to accept when the invitation to the conference is issued by the Peking government.

There were reports today that a note had been sent by Kellogg to the powers which signed the Chinese resolution at the conference in Washington asking them what they thought of the abolition of extra territorial claims in China but this could not be confirmed at the state department.

"Jungles" Suspect Is Refused Bond

Police Searching for Others Involved in Slaying of Two Kansas City Officers in February.

Kansas City, July 16.—While the search for two bootleggers of the Italian colony, wanted by police for the murder last February of Burt G. Lovejoy and George Peters, patrolmen, went on today, George Nigro, a third suspect in the killing, was arraigned on a first degree murder charge. He was refused bond. Warrants have also been issued for the other suspects.

Police say they have positive information that the two officers, who were dealing in bootleg whisky, were killed in a barn in Kansas City's north side and their bodies taken to the "Jungles," northeast of the city, where they were placed in a cave and an attempt to burn the bodies was made.

C. N. Stark Dies at His Home Last Night

C. N. Stark died at 7:30 o'clock last night at his home, four miles southeast of Maryville, after a brief illness. He had been sick only a day and a half and death is thought to have been due to rheumatism and the heat. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Mr. Stark was 63 years old. He had lived in Nodaway County almost all his life, coming here from Centerville, Ia. Surviving are his widow and four sisters, Mrs. George Booth, Texas; Mrs. Cynthia Dykes, Mystic, Ia.; Mrs. Josh Jones, Wray, Colo., and Mrs. I. N. Kelley, Quitman.

BOOTLEGGERS CHANGE FRONT

MANY STILLS ALONG LONG ISLAND COAST LINE.

RUINS IN EVIDENCE

But in Most Places Distilleries Are Located in Cellars or Outhouses of Pretentous Houses.

New York, July 16.—With the sweeping of Rum Row, bootleggers of Long Island, the liquor funnel of the East, have borrowed a page from the southern mountaineers' illegal book and entered the distilling on an organized basis, a survey disclosed today.

Along the coast line of the south side of Long Island, former haunts of the rum runners, there is now a still to almost every mile, laboring on a 24-hour shift to relieve the thirst of New York and adjacent points.

Rockaway Peninsula, with its undisturbed inlets and strips of beach, appears to be the center link in this chain of stills which stretches for fifty miles.

The ruins of a fifty gallon still, which recently exploded near Innwood, is positive evidence of illicit manufacture. In most cases the stills are isolated in places near the outskirts of towns.

In some cases the distillery is hidden in an outhouse or sewer of the pretentious homes of the lieutenant bootleggers.

Bootleggers Escape Jail at Pratt, Kan.

Four Others Fail to Take Advantage of Open Cell—Police Searching That Section of State.

Four other prisoners who could have walked out when someone, working in conjunction with the prisoners, opened the cells, remained behind. Albert Stevenson and Bob Motley, both serving sentences for violation of the liquor law, are the men who got away.

Battery C Drills at 110 Degrees in Shade and Economy Measure Doesn't Permit Any Banquet

Living on 26 cents a day per man, working in the shade at 110 degrees and experiencing a cloudburst are a few of the events of Battery C, 128th F. A., Missouri National Guard, encamped at Fort Riley, Kan., that are accounted for by Sergeant Ray Blomfield, in the first of a series of letters to the Democrat-Forum and Tribune. Sergeant Blomfield's letter, which arrived this morning, follows:

Pawnee Flats, Fort Riley, Kan.
Sunday night, July 12.

Democrat-Forum and Tribune:

A more or less uneventful train ride, very tiresome and monotonous, landed us at the loading dock at 3:15 o'clock this morning. Our expected pullmans failed to materialize and we were forced to ride chair cars all the way, and consequently, the men were travel worn and fatigued.

Our officers were of the opinion that the pullman at the rear of the train was for their use. Being of this opinion, they retired at a modest hour. Their rest was short lived. An hour after they had retired the negro porter informed them that the government had failed to furnish the officers sleeping quarters. He added that the Railroad Co., would be glad to place the pullman at their disposal if they would be kind enough to pay their fares.

In speaking of the little joke the officers were anxious to inform us that they did not object to paying the fare but the principle was wrong. Due to circumstances, the officers spent the remainder of the ride trying to hang in a seat and at the same time seek comfort in sleep.

By 5:30 o'clock in the morning we were nearly unloaded and by 9 o'clock we were really encamped. Practically all the outfits are now in camp and the vacant prairie of six hours ago is now a hustling settlement.

Our camp is by far the best of our experiences. We have a splendid camp site on a south slope, bordered by a range of hills on the north and the Republican River on the south. The really inviting part of this camp is the fact that we can see some trees.

We have a very handy cook shack, neat, clean and well equipped. At the end of the Battery street is a large bathhouse, well equipped, which affords excellent facilities for dealing with the daily wash. Our drinking water is cool and sweet. The pipes are laid about five feet underground. Of course, the coolness of the water does not add greatly to its favor in regard to bathing purposes, but having cool water to drink makes up for this.

By good fortune and curious foresight, I included in my pack a thermometer. One of my first jobs after the erection of our tents was to nail this thermometer to the tent post. I observed it anxiously from time to time to follow its flight. At high noon I read it to be 110 degrees F. Somewhat doubtful, I gathered in three reliable witnesses who confirmed my fears. I had read it correctly.

By the way, the names of these witnesses will be furnished upon request. I again call your attention to the fact that this instrument was in the shade. At that, for some reason, the heat does not feel really discomforting. A threatening storm in the south, accompanied by a steady breeze, has made the temperature very pleasant in the last two hours. I must close and follow the example of the other fellows in writing a letter. Sergeant Conway has up to date asked First Sergeant England when the mail would come in and when it would go out. I believe he is worse than Sergeant Roach, who solemnly stated that "one didn't realize how much one missed one until one was some distance from one."

Fort Riley, Tuesday.

Just twelve more days.

My, how time doesn't fly. We have had some finished arguments as to whether we have been here two days or two weeks.

Last night proved to be anything but restful. At 10 o'clock the sky was clear. By 3 o'clock most of the sky was on the ground. I don't recall having experienced a worse electrical storm. It broke in a high wind. The heavens were lighted continually by the lightning. For approximately an hour this continued. Then, a regular cloudburst hit us. After a deafening deluge, it calmed down somewhat in velocity but the lightning apparently increased, if this could be possible. The storm blew itself out by 4:30 o'clock this morning.

We would probably have been caused some trouble if the fellows had not turned out in the storm and made the tents snug. Three mules were killed by the lightning at the picket line about 200 yards from our quarters. Rather too close for comfort. It has been rumored that we would be sure of having meat daily now.

The sun rose early this morning through the clouds and by noon it hardly seemed possible that we had had a three-inch rain less than twelve hours before. A cool, steady breeze from the east has made the day very pleasant.

It seemed for a time that our mess was going to be very slim and unpalatable. This fact and the fact that we had to sit up all night coming down from Maryville, is due to the conservative measures of Hon. Sam A. Baker and President Coolidge. Their economy program is a reality to us. We are allowed 26 cents per day per man for rations. One does not have to be an expert at deductions to see that we can't have banquets on this allowance. But, due to the efforts of our officers, we have hopes now and hope to have better mess later.

As a whole, the fellows are all feeling well. As rough as this life is to the recruits, they take to it well. Spending every minute out of twenty-four hours in the open air gives one a splendid appetite, not to speak of sunburn. I'm "Blushing Willie" in person.

Major Rolf Raynor endeavored to give the boys a treat today. He let eight men out of each battery go to the Fort and take a swim. But the water was so cold that the joke was on us. At any rate, he meant well.

We had quarters inspection this morning and parade this afternoon. Major Raynor has promised us the privilege of passing in review every evening at retreat. From the satisfaction he derives from looking us over a person would be of the opinion that he had never seen us before.

Our parade ground is rougher than East Second street. Imagine trying to dodge rocks as large as water pails and doing eyes right at the same time.

We have first call at 5:30 a. m. We manage to put in a full day up till 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Then, excepting retreat and watering the horses from 5 to 6 o'clock, we are at our own disposal till taps at 9:30 o'clock. Of course, we have to shave, bathe, do our laundering, police our tents, do one or two details, attend band concert from 7 to 8:15, shine our shoes and leggings, write our letters and a few other such jobs in that time and then can loaf.

Our new second lieutenant, H. Frank Lawrence, is making a neat little officer. It's remarkable how he and the Major agree on everything. Of course, they seem to agree on some points better than others.

The fellows really enjoy hearing from home—and others, and they look forward eagerly to mail time. Sergeant Conway received a special delivery letter this morning while he was in command of a squad at the gun park. But, like a regular trooper, he didn't read it just then. No—he waited a few moments until commanding officer Garten turned his back then the gun squad was at ease for awhile.

We anticipate some action tomorrow. Our horses were furnished by the Remount from Fort Riley and they were generous enough to give us all the unmanageable mounts that they wished to free themselves of. Things will likely happen. Will drop another line later if I am not physically disabled.

Sergeant Ray Blomfield.

Tourist Camp Is One Way to Advertise Advantages and Resources of Cities

The following is the thirty-seventh installment of the article on "Community Advertising" written for the Democrat-Forum by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

Numerous town and country advertising undertakings have been successful beyond the expectations of those who promoted them. Fort Scott, Kan., in 1919 took a special train of city and country men and women into Illinois and Wisconsin, where dairy stock was purchased, and today dairying is an important part of the agricultural program of the community about Fort Scott. Greater returns from farming make good roads programs easier to put over. Good roads assist better schools, and better schools mean better public health campaigns.

Waterloo, Wis., has become well-known, locally and elsewhere, through the establishment of an amusement and recreation park.

Hundreds of small towns have actually placed themselves upon the map through the attention they have given the tourist by providing at small cost an up-to-date tourist camp site. The beginnings of future community building have been started in this manner.

Vincennes, Ind. (population 17,000) has spent more than $10,000 demonstrating to the farmers the need of more and better production.

There is a tendency in community advertising, to give consideration to the state as a whole. The Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, with headquarters at Grand Rapids, is a co-operative undertaking, participated in by a considerable number of communities. Because of the success which resulted from its efforts, both Minnesota and Wisconsin are now working along the same lines.

Three or four years ago the New England states capitalized on Winter by turning it into a merchandizing proposition. Before 2 seasons had passed 100 hotels were opened to care for those interested in winter sports. One railroad reports an increase in passenger business of 298 per cent in one year.

Didn't Like School; Tries to End Life

But 14-Year-Old St. Louis Girl Will Recover and Parents Say Will Resume Her Studies.

St. Louis, July 16.—Because she dreaded returning to school next fall Rose Augustine, 14, decided last night to end it all. She swallowed a quantity of rat poison. However, her condition was discovered and she was rushed to a hospital where it was said today she would recover and, incidentally, according to her parents, would return next fall to her studies.

Denied Stage Career, Sent to County Home

12-Year-Old Potential Broadway Butterfly Today Is "Doing Her Stuff" On Improvised Stage.

Kansas City, Mo., July 16.—Mary Louise Hall, 12-year-old potential Broadway butterfly, today is "doing her stuff" on an improvised stage in the Jackson County Parental Home.

Of course, her audience, while appreciative of her efforts, cannot convey to the youthful star as much pleasure as a real honest-to-goodness first night house might, but Mary is no longer exacting. She is willing to accept what small praise she can get, and she realizes that at last she is really "appreciated."

Mary's troubles have been many in the past two years. They came to a near climax two months ago, when she boarded a tram for New York. She was missing for several days and when finally was found sleeping on a park bench in St. Louis.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hall, who have attempted to steer the girl along the right path were desperate. However, the girl who, unlike other girls of her age, cares nothing for school and books and the ordinary games of childhood, was given another chance. But she violated the rules laid down for her freedom, and recently she was sentenced to the county home for two years.

Mary's last escapade occurred one night when she slipped away to a local amusement park. There she offered her services to the manager of a traveling revue. She was advised to go home and wait a few years before attempting the stage.

Last Fall Mary felt the urge of Broadway upon her, and the thought of getting lessons for the following day appalled. She left home and made her way to the Union Station. A Pullman porter, noticing a thatch of red bobbed hair come out from between the curtains of a berth, handed her over to the police.

First thing to do when you reach camp is line up all the bugs and make them wash their feet.

If you could teach gold fish to sing they would be fine canary birds.

Maybe you could outfit a gold fish with a set of false teeth and teach him to catch rats.

And if a gold fish had false teeth you could kick him out the door for chewing your slippers.

Canary birds are awful loafers. They should knit socks or play checkers like firemen do.

Many Freak Policies in Crop Insurance

Windstorm Insurance In Some States Has Doubled Since Recent Tornadoes In Middle West.

Washington, July 16.—Insuring the crops of the country against unfavorable weather is rapidly becoming an important branch of the insurance business, according to reports reaching the Weather Bureau of the Department of Agriculture. This sort of insurance is issued in many forms.

The oldest line of distinctly weather insurance in the United States is hail insurance on growing crops. Kansas, North Dakota and Iowa lead in the use of hail insurance, having half the hail risks in this country, which totaled $40,000,000 last year.

Windstorm and tornado insurance premiums now amount to more than $30,000,000 annually. Since the tornado near Lorain, O., in 1924, and others in Illinois and Indiana this year, the demand for insurance protection against windstorm damage has been doubled. Some banks and mortgage companies now require windstorm policies as well as fire policies before making loans.

Rain insurance differs from other forms of weather insurance in that it does not cover property damage. It is especially designed for events or business enterprises dependent upon public patronage which would be greatly reduced in bad weather.

Rain Insurance Popular.

Such a policy may cover as short a period as three hours—time enough for a ball game, a track meet, a fashion show or an exhibit. Fair managers and retail stores advertising special sales frequently take out rain insurance for a single day, the Weather Bureau reports show.

Frost insurance for fruit trees is the alternative to the cost and labor of orchard heating. It seldom pays to go to the expense of both. Government experts say. General crop insurance has not yet become well established, but is practiced to some extent. Damage by lightning is usually included in fire insurance policies.

Many freak policies are written, such as insurance against a cloudy sky during an eclipse of the sun, or insurance against lack of snow, taken out in two instances—one by a motion picture company making snow scenes and one by the promoters of Winter sports in Minnesota.

Rates for all these forms of insurance are based on the records of the Weather Bureau and payments are made in conformity with the indisputable facts furnished by it.

Men's Class Charge Hot Weather Program

Several Addresses to Be Given at Evening Services Elmo Church Next Sunday.

(By Edgar O. Wells, Minister.)

There is a little town just about nine miles north of Elmo in the State of Iowa, which in these days of American lawlessness which is also world-wide, should be highly complimented by every true Christian who hears the story. I refer to College Springs, which has a fine little summer resort, which is daily growing in reputation, and where last Friday night there were from seven to eight hundred people enjoying the privileges of its pure water baths, and other concessions, but which when Saturday night closes, is as tight shut on Sunday, as the city of Jerusalem was during the days of Nehemiah, and where you could not even buy a pound of ice, or any other commodity, on God's Holy day.

Let me call attention to the fact, that the ten commandments are a unit, and to violate one, is to be guilty of breaking all, and when Christian people cease to violate these so-called Blue Laws, they will have the respect of the world at large.

The morning worship next Sunday will be at the usual hours, and the sermon theme will be "The Human Race, and the Human Jesus."

The hot weather program at night will be in charge of the Adult Men's Bible Class, which if you miss, you will regret for many a day, we are to have some fine out of town musical talent, as well as addresses by the men. The song service will begin at 8:00 p. m., and will be led by the pastor, and the adult program will begin at 8:30 p. m. Our Sunday School picnic will be at College Springs on Thursday p. m. There will be cars for all. No program, just an old-fashioned picnic. Supper at 7:00 p. m.

CHECKING UP FELONY CASES

ization which will enable representatives from every part of the state to participate in the work of the Association. The organization and public officials having to do with the administration of criminal justice in Missouri are admitted to associate membership.

Already a number of such officials have become members of the organization, including a number of Judges, Prosecutors and State Officers. More than one hundred such civic and commercial organizations have appointed representatives to membership in the Association.

The state-wide survey of criminal justice in Missouri has been launched under the direction of Mr. Lashly.

The Executive committee of the Association consists of: Thomas C. Hennings, who is Vice-President of the Mercantile Trust Co., is Chairman—also President—of the Association.

X. P. Wilfley, President of the Missouri Bar Association and formerly U. S. Senator, is first Vice-President.

Charles Buffum of Louisiana, lumberman, is second vice-president.

Leo Fuller, merchant, Stix, Baer & Fuller Dry Goods Co., is treasurer.

Mrs. George H. Gorton of Kansas City, secretary.

Other members of the Executive Committee are former Governor Herbert S. Hadley, Chancellor of Washington University; H. J. Pettengill, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company; Dean J. P. McBaine, Law School of the University of Missouri; and Leslie J. Lyons, lawyer, formerly U. S. District Attorney at Kansas City.

An extensive membership campaign will, in the near future, be conducted in every important center in the state, and local organizations formed through which the results of the survey will be disseminated to the public with a view to mobilizing public sentiment behind the campaign for needed legislative and administrative changes. There are no membership dues, the funds to defray the expenses of this enormous task being raised by popular subscriptions and individual contributions.

The men making this investigation have recently been working at Trenton and Chillicothe.

St. Joe 1st Big City to Raise Legion Fund

Indianapolis, Ind., July 16.—"St. Joseph, the third largest city in Missouri, has gone over the top, the first big city in the 'Show Me' state to raise her quota of the American Legion endowment fund, and it is now up to your own town," was the word sent to Missouri Legionnaires from national headquarters of The American Legion here today.

The campaign is on to raise Missouri's share of the national endowment fund, and reports to headquarters indicate that everywhere that the needs and purposes of the fund are understood donations are being made whole-heartedly.

"Missourians will do their patriotic duty as they always have done, and more, when they understand it," former Governor Frederick D. Gardner, state chairman of the endowment fund, commented.

Commission to Assess Damages on July 21

Notice was filed in the office of the circuit clerk today by H. H. Mutz, H. F. Leet and Lewis Rogers, appointed by the court, that the commission will meet at 2 o'clock July 21 upon tracts of land described in condemnation suit for purpose of assessing damages thereto.

The defendants in the condemnation suit are Earnest Bainum, George Bainum, Mildred Bainum, William Logan and Robert Richard, and the state highway commission has appropriated tracts of land from their property for right-of-way on the state highway No. 18 between Maryville and Pickering.

Andrews Is Not in Any Political Fight

Prohibition Director Says Attempts To Bring About Row "Is In Interest of Bootlegging Industry."

Washington, July 16.—Apparent attempts to build up a fight between Congress and the treasury over prohibition is strictly in the interest of the bootlegging industry, Gen. L. C. Andrews, field marshal of prohibition, declared today.

"I am not in any fight with the politicians nor embarrassed by them," Andrews asserted. "There seems to be an effort to get up a fight between me and the so-called politicians. This is clearly unfair."

Harry Harrison Named Defendant in Tax Suit

Shot From "Empty" Gun Again Fatal

New York Boy Accidentally Kills His Mother Soon After Returning From Omaha Vacation Trip.

New York, July 16.—"Mother, mother" sobbed Joseph Gross, 17 years old, over and over again in his cell today. The boy accidentally shot and killed his mother at their home last night and is being held for arraignment. Police said he would be charged with suicide. The tragedy occurred less than an hour after the boy had returned home from Omaha where he had been on a month's vacation.

He was telling the family all about his trip and what he had seen. He even had a gun and got it out to display it.

"It isn't loaded, is it Joe?" asked his mother.

"Oh no, there's nothing in it; I have looked," the boy replied.

There came a flash and the mother, without muttering a word, sank to the floor, a bullet through her heart.

Women Assert Rights and Take Over Pool

Waldron, Ind., July 16.—Grim shadows of the law cast gloom today over Waldron's swimming hole, once shaded only by the sycamores. All because women had asserted their rights.

Boys who for generations have frolicked in the pool in their birthday suits wore bathing suits.

They feared another descent of the town constable might land the "birthday bathers" in a justice court for public indecency.

Finances Believed Cause of Suicide

Chillicothe, Mo., July 16.—Despondency over adverse financial conditions was given as the cause today for the suicide last night of Hugh Henry, a candidate last fall for county clerk of Livingston County. Henry is survived by his widow and four children.

Colored Picture Is First of Its Kind

The first moving picture to be done entirely in natural colors is the Zane Grey production, "Wanderer of the Wasteland" which will be shown at the College auditorium tonight and tomorrow night. The scenes of the picture are laid in the original deserts of Arizona and California described in the book by the author.

"In this picture," says Jesse L. Lasky, "We have used the famous Technicolor process—the same process which proved such a sensational success in the Biblical prologue of "The Ten Commandments." To achieve the best results we went to considerable expense and trouble so that the coloring of the picture might be as near perfection as possible to attain."

More than a million copies of this Zane Grey book have been sold. Jack Holt and Billie Dove play the leading parts.

Sparrow's 1st Flying Lesson Blocks Traffic

Six Policemen Ordered to Protect Bird From Army of Cats Standing Greedily Nearby.

New York, July 16. (United Press)—A baby sparrow's first flying lesson blocked traffic, caused a convention of cats and six rookie policemen to become "human flies" here Wednesday.

Taking off from its nest under the eaves of police headquarters the bird's debut on the wing ended abruptly as it dropped to the pavement beneath the window of Deputy Inspector Ryan.

The inspector ordered a half dozen officers to form a cordon to protect the fallen fledgling from an army of cats that stood by hungrily.

Traffic was stopped fifteen minutes by a huge crowd that gathered. Policemen finally succeeded in getting the bird into the air again, but a few minutes later it nose-dived onto the neighboring roof.

The policemen climbed after it and brought it to the ground. Then one of them, bird in hand, went up in the police headquarters elevator and returned the sparrow to its nest.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, July 16.—All grains closed higher on the Chicago Board of trade today.

Wheat led and carried other grains with it. Wide price swings featured. Most wheat swings came late in the session. A two-sided market prevailed nearly all of the time.

Early weakness was superinduced by disappointed cables and record breaking wheat acreage in Argentine. Buying brought on by the reaction is wheat and bullish crop news sent corn higher.

Oats attracted little attention and the market was higher only in sympathy with other grains.

Provisions unchanged to higher.

Receipts of butter at the large consuming markets are about the same as they were a year ago. In some parts of the country where they are having hot, dry weather, production is dropping off; while in other parts where there is a plentiful supply of rain, production is holding up very well. General indications are for normal production for some time.

Consuming demand is good and as a result, less butter is being placed in storage than a year ago.

Egg receipts have shown some shrinkage, and with the extremely hot weather throughout most of the producing sections, the quality has run very irregular. For that reason dealers catering to the fanciest trade have, in some cases, drawn eggs from storage in order to get satisfactory quality.

The general quality of eggs can be improved materially by producers and merchants marketing them frequently.

Liberal receipts of live poultry at the large markets have caused lower values. Producers are now selling their fowls, as the laying season is practically over, and the general tendency is for reasonable values for the next several weeks.

Markets on fresh dressed fowl are working lower, which is partly due to the heavy stocks of frozen poultry in storage, which are now seeking an outlet.

Movement of live broilers is increasing each week and as a consequence the values have worked to lower levels. The quantity of 1924 broilers still in storage is very heavy, while some stock is also being imported. 873 boxes of broilers, product from Hungary, were received at New York on "SS American Merchant," June 27.—It is also reported that on account of larger production of poultry in Europe there will be less demand for American chickens weighing 2½ to 3½ pounds. This will necessarily mean that more of this stock will be consumed in this country and prices will have to be reasonable.

Myrtle Tree—Sunday school at 10:00 A. M.

Pickering—Sunday school at 10 A. M. Preaching at 11:00 A. M. and at 8 P. M.

The attendance has not been as large as usual because of the hot weather.

Let us all try and be present Sunday without fail.

E. W. Croy, Pastor.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

We had a certain visitor at Sunday School last Sunday who has been there before, but who only comes occasionally. It is never possible to tell exactly when he is coming, but when he gets there, all present know it. Although all others, regardless of "race, color, or previous condition of servitude" are always welcome at the Sunday School, this one person is always an unwelcome guest.

He is an enemy of the church, the Bible school, the Home, and all things of a moral or religious nature. Although quite aged, he is still very active, especially in summer time. Volumes could be written about his infamous deeds, but we have not the space here, so will just give his name so you will not be mistaken as to who we mean. We refer to OLD SUMMER SLUMP. It was he who prevented about fifty from attending church last Sunday, and consequently we had 88 in Sunday School when we should have had 150 or more.

We have an especially good reason for wishing a large number present next Sunday. So let every class have their members out in good shape. Also please, PLEASE, stay for church. We have a message for you.

The night service next Sunday will be a SURPRISE. No one but the pastor knows what is on, but you are cordially urged to come, and see. We want a big crowd Sunday night.

The Excelsior Class will conduct an ice cream supper in Pickering Saturday night. Come to town and patronize them.

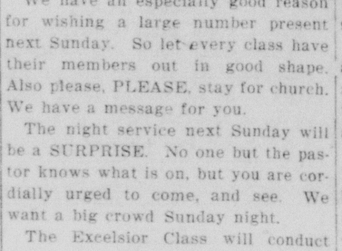
THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa. — "My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after. When I bent over and raised myself up again I could almost scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water.

Once when we had been in town a little book telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and help with the milking and taking care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I am feeling fine myself. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound." —Mrs. OSCAR F. BORGELIN, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for sale by all druggists.



Gives advice to Expectant Mothers

"I HAD an awful time with my first baby," writes Mrs. Theo. Willey, 431 E. Ohio St., Indianapolis, Ind. "They had to give me chloroform and use instruments. They thought I would die. But before my second baby came I used 'Mother's Friend' and baby was born with only a few pains and before a doctor could arrive. I also used 'Mother's Friend' with my third baby. I was only sick a little while and she also was born before the doctor arrived. I cannot praise 'Mother's Friend' enough. I tell every one I see who is expecting to become a mother about 'Mother's Friend.'"

Girl Gained 7 Pounds Nine Years an Invalid

That's just what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for the Babcock girl—and is doing as much for tens of thousands of thin, underweight, weak and discouraged people all over America.

These sugar coated, pleasant to take tablets should be given to children instead of the vile stomach upsetting oil itself—they surely do help the frail, delicate little ones and 60 tablets cost but 60 cents at Maryville Drug Co. and Gaugh & Evans or any real druggist anywhere in America.

Read this letter if you have a child that needs to gain health and strength.

"My little girl was stricken with infantile paralysis when she was 5 months old and was an invalid for 9 years, when I saw an ad in the paper that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets would build up wasted tissues. I bought a box and she gained very slowly at first and after taking eight boxes, she gained seven pounds. Thanks to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, after trying almost everything else on the market. She is on the road to recovery and goes to school every day." Mrs. L. Babcock, Appleton, Wis.

Imitations of McCoy's may be offered but be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine and if after thirty days treatment you are not delighted with results—why, get your money back.

PICKERING GETS DIXON

TO PITCH AGAINST MARYVILLE MERCHANTS SUNDAY

LINE-UP ANNOUNCED

Pickering Has One Win Over Locals and it Will Be a Fight to Even Up the Count.

Sunday will bring together two baseball teams that will fight to the last ditch in order to win. The Pickering Independent Ball Club will be here to play the Maryville Merchants' Club at the Club ball park east of Maryville at the fair grounds.

In the first game of the season the locals lost to Pickering there by the close score of 3 to 1 and will go into the game Sunday to even up the count. Pickering, in an effort to bolster up its offense, has weakened Maryville batting strength by securing Eugene Dixon to pitch. Dixon pitched one game for Maryville this year, and it was the 1 to 0 game with Whitesville. In the other games he has been playing in the field and his batting average is high, being used as lead-off man.

The manager of the Pickering team has announced his line-up for Sunday as follows:

Jameson, 3rd; M. Carmichael, ss; Phil Tobin, 2b; Brennan, 1b; D. Carmichael, c; Dixon, p; with Gumm on the bench; and the outfielders will be chosen from Burks, Burch, C. Carmichael and McKee.

Of this number mentioned four have played with the Maryville team at times during the season. Phil Tobin, Brennan, Jameson and Dixon, having started in the local line-up more than once.

Mrs. LaFollette May Seek Husband's Seat

Women of Country Petitioning Wife Former Senator—National Woman's Party Leads in Appeal.

(By Paul R. Mallon)

United Press Staff Correspondent.

Washington, July 16. — Women throughout the country are petitioning Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette, widow of the independent leader, to herald a new era in woman's politics by taking her husband's seat in the United States senate and beginning a drive for women's legislation.

So strong and widespread is the movement that Mrs. LaFollette now is considering abandoning her decision to remain in seclusion for completion of her husband's memoirs. If she consents to run her chance for selection is excellent and her advent to the senate would mark the first time that a woman has come to the senate by authority of an election to take a hand in legislation.

The National Woman's Party, an organization of all women's political groups, is leading the appeal.

Emma Wold, legislative adviser of the party and close friend of Mrs. LaFollette recently called upon her. She bore a petition from the Wisconsin branch of the party. Mrs. LaFollette indicated that she looked upon the project not unfavorably and promised to give a definite answer within a few days.

"I told her that I realized what a very great sacrifice it would be, after losing her husband, to enter public life," Miss Wold said. "But women everywhere are looking to her to help the woman's cause. I told her we would do everything possible to help her.

"She said she had not made up her mind but would let us know in a few days."

Since her husband's death Mrs. LaFollette has steadfastly refused to enter the race. Political leaders associated with her husband have come to her with appeals that she must run to preserve unity within the LaFollette ranks in Wisconsin. She, however, desired to spend her time in completing her husband's memoirs from the notes he left.

Mrs. LaFollette desired that her son, Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., enter the race. She believed he could carry on his father's work better than anyone else and those who knew Robert, Jr., agreed with her, so the wishes of the Wisconsin leaders were overruled.

This new appeal of women, however, has placed a different light upon her decision.

Robert left here last night for Madison and a formal announcement as to what action will be taken is expected before the end of the week.

Two Negroes Are to Be Hanged Tomorrow

Are The First In Over Year—Appeals To Governor And Supreme Court Have Failed.

St. Louis, July 16. (United Press)—Two hangings—the first in more than a year—will be carried out Friday.

Leon Williams, a negro, will be hanged in the court yard here for the murder of a store keeper in a hold-up. James Crump, another negro, will be hanged at Montgomery, Mo., for the murder of Sheriff Chal Blum at Mexico.

Appeals have been made to the governor and consistent appeals to th supreme court to stave off carrying out the death sentence—but they proved of no avail.

The supreme court has held the sentence in each case is legal and has refused new trials.

Governor Baker repeatedly had said he will not interfere with the death sentences.

Both negroes have entered the "death house" now awaiting the springing of the traps Friday morning.

Illinois Farmer Is Hoping Against Death

Temporarily Saved From Gallows Emil Fricker Now Spends Time Reading the Bible.

Edwardsville, Ill., July 16. (United Press)—Nervously fingering his Bible Emil Fricker waits in the county jail here hoping against death.

The former wealthy Highland, Ill., farmer was convicted of conspiracy to kill John Nungesser, one of his employees, and was sentenced to hang early last month. A last minute official action—based on an appeal to be made to the supreme court—saved him from the gallows temporarily.

Going to the jail hateful and cynical, Fricker now spends his time in reading the Bible. Shortly after being confined here he was visited by a priest after many pleadings from his aged mother. Since that time he has idled the jail hours in looking through the "Good Book," as they call it here.

The gallows, upon which Fricker was supposed to hang, have been erected and cast an ominous shadow over the side of the jail. Many persons visit it and point at the jail where Fricker is confined—but he has little to say about the death penalty and when it will be carried out.

"I am innocent" the condemned man says. "That is all I can say, except of course, that I think a new trial will clear me."

A careful watch is being kept over the jail and especially Fricker's cell inasmuch as two things have been found which indicate plans for a jail break.

A saw was found on one of the window ledges recently and that has given rise to the added precautions.

Grows Young Riding Bike, Says Man 76

Charles Witherspoon of Hillsboro, Ill., Has Been Pedaling a Wheel for Forty Years.

Hillsboro, Ill., July 16. (United Press)—Charles Witherspoon is riding a bicycle and growing younger daily—according to his own version of it.

Witherspoon is 76 years old and has been riding a bicycle for 40 years—there having been three machines during that time.

He is a familiar figure along the highways around here as daily he does from ten to fifteen miles. According to members of his family he grows restless when rain prevents his daily rides.

"Exercise keeps one young and I believe that bicycle riding is the best exercise possible," Witherspoon said as he swung from his "wheel." "I intend to keep on riding just as long as it is possible, because I feel better when I am able to get out this way."
